Table of Contents [ShowHide]Supersonic Studios always have interesting ideas for your products. As a result, they save players a lot of marketing costs. When someone playing the game makes them feel happy, they often share and recommend it to their friends. Maybe join the clash in 3D, then we will do the same! Another version of Crowd City? Crowd City is a famous game of VOODOO. And if you've ever played it, can you also ask, is Join The Clash in 3D a different version of Crowd City? Why are graphic designs and gameplay so similar? As soon as you take the first challenge, then draw the answer is not. Their gameplay is completely different because the goal of Crowd City is to form the largest crowd and devour opponents to become the largest empire in two minutes. In Join The Clash in 3D, there is no time limit, but there are many things you need to face. These are enemies, traps and obstacles. How to overcome challenges? You're going to start a game with a man. Touching and holding the screen will help it move forward. Try to slip left and right to dodge obstacles, pass on the enemy castle and destroy it. In fact, the enemy tries to destroy its forces before you reach your castle. So, complement your forces by moving through white characters. Having more people is a big advantage, but it's just as difficult to keep them until the end of the challenge. They tend to line up horizontally and fill the road, while chainsaws, balloons or iron holes are scattered throughout the journey. Join Clash 3D is a gameplay that combines Crowd City and Big Battle in 3D. Your ultimate goal is to defeat the enemy and catch the castle. At the end of the road, the rest of the warriors on their team still face an army of enemies (maybe bosses). If you want to win, you must defeat all the enemy forces. The first reward for this battle is a fun celebration of the dance of your characters and your flag is to honor the enemy castle. Upgrade! you feel that you can't maintain a force big enough until you see an opponent's castle, you can think about the quality of your team. This is done through the upgrade process. The default characters are very weak and can only win some of the first few challenges. But when the severity increases and bosses appear, all your efforts are just redundant! Increase offensive and defensive their forces by renewing. However, the maximum level you can update depends on your level and coins you have. Besides, you can upgrade the money to increase the bonus amount after each game. Fighting bosses Actually, bosses cause you to replay several times the challenge. They're big, and they're their guns, too. With just one punch, they can kill three to four (or more) members of their forces. But luckily, if you replay again, their health condition (HP) will remain the same, not recovered. So, if your forces aren't strong enough, upgrade them until you're strong enough to beat the boss at the end of the game. Open new skins! Like Crowd City, this game is the default skin for humanoid characters and only one color. However, during the battle of the enemy, the system rewarded gifts and unlock new skins with a more unique look. It could be a sailor wearing a pirate hat, a baseball player or a cowboy. But if waiting makes you feel dissatisfied, you can use the bonus or watch a promotional video to randomly open one of the skins you don't have yet. Funny 3D graphics Join Clash 3D focuses on entertainment, so graphics are designed very easily. This almost inherited Crowd City game with minimalist characters to the point of no face or emotion at all. However, the sound and dance of the characters make up for this is not such a perfect point. They screamed with joy and began amusing dances as they defeated their enemies right in front of the new castle.
